Have you had a great summer? Did you have a chance to get away from the console for some much-needed R&R? We hope so, because it is about time to start the routine all over again.

Our Chapter Sub-Dean Martha Shaffer journeyed to the Region VI AGO convention in Colorado Springs, Colo., June 26-29. Here’s her report:

The convention opened on Sunday evening with a hymn festival directed by Dr. Michael Burkhardt and led by a 70-voice choir. Centering on the theme Let All Creation Dance, Dr. Burkhardt selected hymn-texts and readings ranging from Native American songs to C. H. H. Parry’s Laudate Dominum, all presented with the quintessential Burkhardt flair for improvisation.

Monday recitals were given by Thomas Murray on the 1931 Welte-Tripp instrument in the chapel of Colorado College, and Mary Preston on the 1955 Orgues Letourneau tracker at First Christian Church. Ms. Preston’s program included works for organ and chamber orchestra by Handel, Hindemuth, and Rheinberger.

The Tuesday morning recital featured the winner of the Region VI Young Organists Competition, Jared Stellmacher, a student of John Chappell Stowe at U. Wisconsin/Madison. In the evening, David Higgs presided at the console of a new Casavant installation at First Lutheran Church. His eclectic program ranged from Buxtehude to Guillou, brought the audience to their feet with Durufle’s Suite pour Orgue, and then closed with There is A Happy Land by George Shearing.

Wednesday everyone traveled by bus to the north end of town, first for a recital at St. Michael’s Episcopal by Christian Lane, a prize winner in the 2004 AGO National competition. He closed a very solid program with deft footwork in John Knowles Paine’s Concert Variations on The Star Spangled Banner. In the afternoon, the chapel of the United States Air Force Academy was the venue for a program of organ solos and transcriptions for organ and brass, played by chapel organist Joseph Galema and Stellar Brass. Highlight of this program was the Suite for Organ and Brass Quintet and Percussion led by Craig Phillips.

Two afternoon programs featured talented local groups, the 25-voice Colorado Vocal Arts Ensemble, an a capella choir, and the Pikes Peak Ringers, a professional handbell group led by Kevin McChesney. Other fine local talent included the Chamber Orchestra of the Springs (featured in the Preston recital), and the musicians in the closing concert of Bach chamber music, which included four local chapter members playing harpsichords.
Preview of the 2004-05 Chapter Season

Plans and venues are not yet complete for the entire Chapter meeting season, but do mark your calendars for these meetings:

- September 26 — Opening dinner, short business meeting with overview of the season's activities and progress update on next summer's Pipe Organ Encounter (POE) that our chapter is sponsoring, plus a short worship service.
- October 24 — Workshop on professional certification programs. Considering studying for a Guild certification? Check the July 2005 issue of The American Organist (page 47) for requirements.

- November 28-29 — Jeremy Bruns. Monday workshop on accessible service music featuring Louis Vierne's 24 Pieces en style libre. Tuesday concert at Christ Church Cathedral.
- On a date yet to be announced in the spring, there will be a repertoire-sharing session for members. Be thinking about your contribution to this event!

On the Concert Horizon...

While it's early in the season, the following concerts have been announced:

- August 7 — Charles Collins will present a recital on the recently installed seven-rank Wicks organ in Singleton Chapel of St. John’s United Methodist Church, 5000 Washington Place at Kingshighway. Program features works by Johann Sebastian Bach, Eric H. Thiman, and Daniel Pinkham. Information, 314-361-3543

- September 18 — Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, 2030 Union Road, will host a hymn festival, featuring Dr. John Behnke. The theme will be “Psalms, Hymns, and Spiritual Offerings.” The public is invited. A free-will offering will be received for future repairs and/or enhancements to the church pipe organ. Information, Jeff White reedstop@prodigy.net.

New OPUS Editor

We welcome Wayne King to the editorship of The Opus, your chapter's membership publication.

Mr. King has been a member of our chapter for three years. He held the staff organist position at a Clayton church for nearly 15 years and now enjoys occasional sub work and weddings.

Mr. King is employed by a major St. Louis transportation company where he produces monthly newsletters, presentation graphics, and edits a myriad of electronic communications.

He may be reached by phone at 636-349-2509 (work) or 314-966-8971 (home). He has established the e-mail address of opusslago@aol.com especially to receive material for the newsletter.
